Recruitment Procedure

Sourcing

Candidates are sourced from our 3.7 million+ strong database, head hunting, media and other reliable sources like associates and friends. Mumbai being the hub of recruitment activities & a financial capital of the country attracts millions of job seekers from different parts of India. We capitalize on this and do not miss any opportunity to tap the best

Requirements in large numbers are sourced out through leading newspapers, periodicals and associates spread in major cities of India.

Interviews & Testing

Before interviews, our team of technically qualified staff pre-screens all candidates to present the best quality candidates that meet our client's requirements. This helps our clients optimize their selection process by reducing the number of applicants they need to interview.

Our extensive network, covering the entire country, is capable of handling large-scale recruitment efficiently and in a short time frame, ensuring that our clients are satisfied with the results. In addition to recruiting candidates from India, we also have the resources to recruit from neighboring countries such as Nepal and Bangladesh.

We have partnered with state-of-the-art technical institutes to test and qualify technical tradesmen in large numbers. These facilities are equipped with modern machinery and infrastructure to test tradesmen in various fields, including mechanical, civil, and electro-mechanical.

Medical Tests

All selected candidates are medically tested as per the requirements of the employing country, thereby ensuring our candidates are hundred per cent fit and free of any communicable diseases. In general, we get our candidates tested through GAMCA (The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) Accredited Medical Clinics Association) that keeps records of medical check-ups done at the accredited medical centers.

Mobilization

After the receipt of visas, we guarantee mobilization of our candidates within five to six days' time, thereby ensuring timely execution of our client's projects OR adhere to mobilization schedule provided by our clients.
